Dear Colleague,

I have enclosed some information below regarding the release date of the GenBank accession number about which you have inquired. Per our record, AF044216 was first release on March-6-1998.

GenBank collaborates with the EMBL database in Europe and the DDBJ database in Japan to produce and distribute the International DNA Sequence Databases. The International DNA Sequence Databases take no responsibility for making any determination of the priority issues for patent claims. We are able only to inform you, to the best of our knowledge, of the release date of the pertinent sequence into the public database. We appreciate your understanding and cooperation.

Regards,
